SATURDAY, APRIL 15TH | 12 - 3 PM

BARCO LAW BUILDING ROOM 111 (3900 FORBES AVENUE) AND ZOOM

BOXED LUNCHES AVAILABLE FROM 12 TO 12:45 PM*

April is Fair Housing Month, and housing is a human right. Yet, local laws protect landlords at the expense of more vulnerable renters. Low-income and student residents are often exploited by unscrupulous landlords who put profits before all. Activists across the region are coming together to learn new strategies to protect the rights of renters so we can improve housing security and well-being for all residents of our city.

Panelists will include leaders from the Hill District Consensus Group, Pittsburgh Union of Regional Renters (PURR), National Coalition for a Civil Right to Counsel (NCCRC), and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission.
